Adding general comments

The screenshot displays the IPPC document editor interface. On the left, a sidebar shows a list of documents and a table of contents. The main area displays a document with text about phytosanitary actions. A 'General Comment' dialog box is open, featuring a text input field and a dropdown menu with options: '<Blank>', 'EDITORIAL', 'SUBSTANTIVE', 'TECHNICAL', and 'TRANSLATION'. The 'TECHNICAL' option is currently selected. The dialog has 'Apply' and 'Cancel' buttons. In the background, the document text includes phrases like 'authorize private entities to perform specific phytosanitary actions' and 'Elements of this standard may also apply when'. On the right side of the interface, there is a panel showing document metadata and a list of test cases (Test CP7) with their categories and update dates.

The OCS and IPPC Regional Workshops

Before the Regional Workshop

- Step 1: Ensure you have received your IPPC OCS login information.
- Step 2: Beginning 1 July, contact points review the draft ISPMs by consulting relevant subject matter experts and entering your comments in the "IPPC Regional Workshop" or "RPPO" workgroup.

During the Regional Workshop

- Step 3: The OCS lead/RPPO shows comments by countries in the region on the screen; only substantive and technical comments are discussed at the workshop.
- Step 4: Participants come to an agreement on comments, which are modified and published to the "IPPC" workgroup in live time.

After the Regional Workshop

- Step 5: Contact points review the final workshop comments and determine whether to accept them. In this case, they can provide a general comment on each draft: "I agree with comments submitted at the RW".
- Step 6: Contact Points can adjust/make new comments on the draft ISPMs by 30 September.
